JUDGE, ATTORNEY, SHERIFF AND TWO JURORS SHOT DEAD

AS RESULT OF SHOTS FIRED TRAGEDY IN A COURT ROOM

VOLLEY OF SHOTS RING OUT AS STATE'S ATTORNEY ARISES TO ADDRESS THE COURT TODAY.

HILLSVILLE, Va., March 14—Massie of the 21st [illegible] was shot dead on the [illegible], William Foster, the commonwealth's attorney, was shot as he arose to address the court, and Sheriff L. F. Webb was also killed by a fusilade of shots just after court opened for the day.

The "Allen gang" of Carroll county [illegible] and Floyd Allen had been convicted of a felony. All persons in the court room were startled and surprised and more than a score of persons were injured.

Calls for help were sent out and troops are being rushed here from Pulaski.

Appeal to Governor—

RICHMOND, Va., March 14—Governor Mann received the following telegram from the clerk of the circuit court at Hillsville at noon:

"Mob violence. The judge, commonwealth's attorney, some officers and others have been shot following the conviction of Floyd Allen for murder. The sheriff and a juror are dead and Judge Massie is shot through here quick."

Trouble Is Expected—

HILLSVILLE, Va., Mar. 14—Judge Massie died at noon.

Twenty members of the Allen gang arose from their seats in the court room and poured a fusilade of shots at the court officers, just as the verdict was rendered against Floyd Allen in a felony.

James Douglas and another juror were killed by the shots and many of the spectators were injured.

The Allens had threatened to shoot up the court room if the verdict of the gang was convicted. Immediately after the shooting the members of the gang dashed from the court room and fled. A hastily organized posse heavily armed followed and surrounded the assassins in a barn. A desperate battle is expected before the members of the gang are recaptured.

The town and this section of the state is wildly excited and word has been received that two companies of militia are now on the way here.

Allen Reported Killed—

RICHMOND, Va., March 14—A report has reached here that Floyd Allen, the leader of the gang of desperadoes, has been taken prisoner, wounded, and that he has died. One of the bandits is also reported to have been killed this afternoon in the fight with the posse.

C. B. M. Sheppard, formerly in business in this city but now located at New Smyrna, was in this city [illegible] yesterday until this afternoon, attending to some business matters and calling upon friends here. Mr. Sheppard, who is a graduate of two colleges and before engaging in business in Daytona had been teaching for a number of years in the public schools of this county, has definitely decided to become a candidate for the position of superintendent of public instruction at the coming democratic primary. Mr. Sheppard feels that he is fully qualified to fill the position he seeks and will be most greatly encouraged by his many friends throughout the county in the campaign.

Everything in trunks and bags at popular prices at Peck-Hendricks.

REDUCTIONS IN THE FARE ARE ASKED

PEOPLE IN BALTIMORE CLAIM ATLANTIC CITY RATE IS HIGH

MILLING COMPANY IN BADGER STATE ASKS COMMISSION TO CUT OUT PREFERENCE SHOWN TWIN CITIES.

WASHINGTON, March 14—Charges in passenger fares between Baltimore and Atlantic City in comparison with charges on fares from New York City to Atlantic City, furnished the subject of a hearing before the interstate commerce commission today. On complaint of the Merchants & Manufacturers' association of Baltimore, suit was filed with the commission against the Atlantic City railroad and several other railroads operating between the points named.

It was brought out in the course of the arguments made by A. E. Beck and other attorneys that from Baltimore charges to Atlantic City were as follows: Round trip fare $6 with a 15 days limit on one road; $8.50 for 15 days ticket via another road; $7.25 on another for a limited ticket of six months. From New York, the fares are $5 with a limit of six months. It was pointed out that there is only a difference of five miles in the two routes, the New York route being the shorter.

The chamber of commerce asks the commission to make a reduction in these fares.

Ask Freight Reduction—

WASHINGTON, March 14—Charging that the tariff and transit privileges were conducive of flagrant and serious abuses over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Northern Pacific railroads at Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., Attorney William D. Kerr of Chicago, today presented to the interstate commerce commission arguments on the complaint brought by the Blodgett Milling company of Janesville, Wis., against the railroads. It was brought out by witnesses that the tariffs give undue preferences to shippers in localities other than Janesville, on through shipments to Pacific coast terminals of rye, buckwheat and their products.

In concluding his arguments Mr. Kerr declared that the present tariffs do not protect the integrity of through rates from points of origin to destination and that they permit of serious abuses in the substitution of shipments originating in different localities. "These tariffs," declared Mr. Kerr, "give undue preference to millers, malsters, dealers and jobbers located at Minneapolis and St. Paul over other points in the states of Wisconsin and Minnesota."

NO HOPE FOR GRACE TO SURVIVE

ATLANTA MAN IS NOW DYING WIFE BREAKS DOWN IN JAIL

ALL THOUGHT OF RELEASING WOMAN ON BOND IS ABANDONED AND SHE WILL BE HELD FOR MURDER.

ATLANTA, March 14 — Eugene Grace, who accuses his wife of having drugged and then shot him at their home recently, is in a dying condition today. The physicians in attendance declare there is no hope for his recovery.

When informed of the condition of her husband Mrs. Grace broke down and swayed with grief. All thought of releasing the woman on bond has now been abondoned.

The Grace ante mortem statement will probably be taken this afternoon. Although the husband remains very bitter against his wife, never by word or action has the wife shown anything but the strongest affection for her husband.

MRS. FOSTER ENTERTAINS WITH A BRIDGE PARTY.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. A. B. Foster entertained with bridge at her winter home, 218 South Ridgewood avenue, the affair being in honor of Mrs. Robert McKenzie and Mrs. Clelland Hurd, both of Cleveland, who are sojourning in the city. The ladies present formed six tables at bridge.

The first prize was won by Mrs. McKenzie, the second by Mrs. Geo. Beach and the third by Mrs. Florence Marsh. Mrs. W. E. Blodgett was presented the consolation prize.

Miss Paine of South Ridgewood avenue, delighted the guests with several selections on the piano, and during the afternoon dainty refreshments were served.

NEW YORK, March 14—Representatives of 180,000 anthracite miners in the United States at a conference at their headquarters today decided to stand pat on their demands, which were refused at a conference with the operators yesterday. ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE KING VICTOR

ANARCHIST FIRES AT RULER WOUNDS AN ARMY ATTENDANT

CROWD KNOCKS DOWN WOULD-BE ASSASSIN AND NEARLY BEATS HIM TO DEATH BEFORE POLICE GET HIM.

ROME, Mar. 14.—An attempt to assassinate King Victor was made by an anarchist, as the ruler was riding in his carriage on his way to the Pantheon to attend the memorial services on the anniversary of the funeral of his father, King Humbert, who was assassinated in 1900.

The man was in the crowd watching the king's carriage pass and fired a revolver point blank at the king as the carriage came opposite him. Major Langa, who was riding at the side of the carriage, was wounded by the bullet.

The assassin quickly fired a second shot and was preparing to shoot again when the crowd closed in on him, overpowered him, took away his gun, knocked him to the ground and then jumped on the prostrate body.

The man was almost beaten to death before the police could break through the mob and rescue him, so great was the anger of the crowd. He was quickly hustled away.

Afterward the man gave his name as Antonio Paiba, and said he was a Roman anarchist, 21 years of age.

King Victor remained calm during the excitement and, as soon as the passage could be cleared, proceeded to the Pantheon to attend the memorial services.

SIXTY DAYS ON STREETS FOR JESSE

ALSO DRAWS A FINE OF $20 BEFORE MAYOR TITUS TODAY

NEGRO WHO DID SHOOTING ON STREET SATURDAY NIGHT APPEARS IN CITY COURT ON THREE CHARGES.

This afternoon Jesse Green was surrendered by his bondsmen and turned over to the sheriff. The city will have to wait until the completion of the trial in criminal court, before he can serve his sentence here.

As a further result of the alleged attempt to shoot his wife and mother-in-law in the carnival crowds last Saturday evening Jesse Green, colored, appeared in the mayor's court this morning to face three separate charges and when he emerged from the court room he was dragging sentences of 30 days on the streets on each of two of the charges and a fine of $20, with an alternative of 10 days on the streets, on the other.

Immediately after being released on $500 bond for his appearance at the next session of the criminal court at DeLand, yesterday, a city warrant was sworn out and served on the negro charging him with carrying concealed weapons. This warrant was followed by the serving of two others charging assault, one on his wife and the other on his mother-in-law.

In mayor's court this morning the negro was fined $20 with an alternative of 10 days on the streets on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, and on each of the two charges of assault was sentenced to 30 days at hard labor on the streets, with no alternative of a fine.

It is understood that the defense for the negro in the criminal court will be made the same as in the preliminary hearing before Squire Tuber, that he attempted to kill himself and was prevented from doing so by the action of his wife.

EXHIBITION SHOWS WORK OF WOMEN

OPENS IN NEW YORK TODAY MANY WOMEN IN ATTENDANCE

WOMEN SHOPPERS SHOW ANXIETY TO SEE WHAT HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED BY MEMBERS OF THEIR SEX.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The opening of the Woman's Industrial exhibition, the first event of its kind ever held in this country, attracted a crowd of several thousand people to the new Grand Central Palace this afternoon. For the most part the attendance was made up of women shoppers, who wanted to see just what had been accomplished by their sex in the various lines of industry, and at the same time find out what kind of an exhibition it could possibly be that is conducted entirely by women, without any masculine help whatsoever.

The great floor space of the new Grand Central Palace has been systematically divided into sectional groups, which are being utilized by the various features and departments of the exhibition. As becomes a project conducted by women, one of the big features of the exhibition is the "Temple of Fashion," where twenty beautiful and statuesque living models may be seen, adorned in the very latest and handsomest creations adapted to each period of the day. Needless to say, the "Temple of Fashion" was the mecca for 90 per cent. of today's attendance. Besides the models exploiting the newest works of the dictators of fashion, there are a number of pretty girls who give a tableau-like illustration of the history of dress from the mediaeval period to the present time. Lectures on the art of dress are delivered by an expert at regular intervals.

One section of the exhibition illustrates the last decade of woman's work in the progress of the world. Comparative conditions in the method utilized by women in housekeeping and earning a livelihood at the present time and years ago are shown in tableaux and photographs, and specimens of work that has been accomplished by women in the various branches of industry, philanthropy education and science.

Another department is given over to the innovations and suggestions of women in housekeeping, house building, furniture, rugs, all sorts of household repairs, farming, bookbindery, kindergarten work and general municipal cleanliness.

The exhibition is being held under the auspices of ten leading women's organizations of the city, and is being conducted with the personal help of two hundred of New York's most prominent women, including Mrs. E. H. Harriman, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Mrs. Martin W. Littleton, Mrs. Cleveland Moffett, Mrs. E. H. Gary, Mrs. William Loeb, Mrs. Henry Phipps and Mrs. Samuel Untermeyer.

Dr. Charles H. MacFarland, of Cleveland, Ohio, and S. Frankenfield of New Haven, Conn., met at the Ridgewood, where they are guests, for the first time in 12 years. The meeting called to mind a trip on a houseboat 12 years ago, starting at Rockledge down the Indian river to Palm Beach.

The party consisted of Dr. MacFarland and wife, Mr. Frankenfield, Dr. Scofield and wife, and the crew. It was intended to make the trip in two and one-half days, but owing to the many oysterbars in the river, and the wild animals and knats in the jungles on both sides of the river, the undertaking became perilous and put to the test the bravery of the members of the party.

They started down the river on a Saturday and Sunday morning the guests at the hotel were surprised to see the boat on an oysterbar one-half mile distant. After many hair-raising adventures and by reason of the bravery and ingenuity of Mr. Frankenfield the party reached a point 25 miles from Palm Beach, at which place they boarded a train for their destination.

A number of Mr. Frankenfield's friends deemed it proper that his great heroism as navigator of the vessel should be formally recognized. A leather medal was designed by H. A. Greenlund of Jamestown, N. Y., bearing a suitable inscription and properly decorated. Messrs. Rosenthal, MacFarland, Millard, Sperry, Moores, Shulman, Turrell, Hayes, Ellison and Greenlund escorted the hero to one of the spacious porches of the Ridgewood, and after a presentation speech by Attorney Ralph Shulman of Syracuse, N. Y., the medal was placed over Mr. Frankenfield's heart and once more an act of great sacrifice and bravery has been rewarded. Truly, history is written every day.

WEST PART OF N. CAROLINA ADVERTISED IN THIS STATE

REPRESENTATIVES ARE HERE TO TELL PEOPLE OF THE BEAUTIES OF THE "LAND OF THE SKY."

Sanford H. Cohen, well known through the south as an old newspaper man, and for his successful promotion and management of a number of large public enterprises, notably the Cotton States exposition at Atlanta, and more recently the successful Appalachian exposition, is in the city for a few days.

Mr. Cohen is visiting Daytona in the interest of Western Carolina. He is the manager of the Greater Western North Carolina association. This organization is composed of prominent citizens of seven counties in that section of the "Land of the Sky." The organization has for its object the advertisement of that section as an all-the-year-round tourist resort, and of the development of the wonderful resources.

Mr. Cohen, with J. H. Wood, passenger representative of the Southern railway, called at the News office and talked most interestingly of Western North Carolina, and explained that they were visiting the various sections of Florida, advertising the gifts of nature and climate that makes Western North Carolina a great all-the-year-round tourist resort. He was enthusiastic over the charming and captivating climate, the massive mountains, the grand scenic environment, the sparkling streams, the fine fishing, the diversity of fragrant flowers, the beautiful serpentine walks and drives. He was particularly enthusiastic about the healthfulness of the climate for pleasure and health seekers as well as investors, and the fine hotels and boarding houses, the uniform purity and abundance of the public as well as the private water supplies.

"The recuperative powers of this section are simply incomparable," said Mr. Cohen.

These gentlemen will be in Daytona at the Foster & Reynolds office for some time and have already interested a great many health and pleasure seekers in going to Western North Carolina.

Mr. Cohen says that Florida has been particularly kind to Western North Carolina, and sends a large number of people to the "Land of the Sky" during the summer months.

Encouraging Matrimony.

A Kansas City clergyman is conducting a matrimonial class, made up of about 50 couples. He is very frank in talking about it, saying that his object is to marry the young people of his congregation. He called them together about a month ago, and said that any man of 23 or 24 who was making $65 a month ought to get married, and that any girl of 18 to 19 should take a husband. He formed the society then and there and is now delivering weekly lectures in matrimony on buying furniture, cooking, saving money, rearing children. A little later the clergyman hopes to be tying many matrimonial knots.

A Reforming Influence.

"That automobile I bought has been doing wonders for me," said Mr. Chuggins.

"Fresh air and all that sort of thing?"

"It has benefited me morally as well as physically. It has led me to avoid intoxicants and to lead a life that will insure me as beautiful an obituary as possible."

PENSIONS ARE WANTED BY EMPLOYES

FEDERAL EMPLOYES BELIEVE GOVERNMENT SHOULD PROTECT

PROBLEM IS GROWING LARGER ALL THE TIME AND WILL SOON HAVE TO BE FACED BY CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—A new demand for pensions has been made upon the United States government. This time the civil employes—more than 300,000 of them—want to be retired in pay at the end of long and faithful service. They cannot see the difference between a military and a civil servant of the government when it comes to the consideration of pensions.

It is true the government has expended about as much on pensions for Civil war veterans as the operation of the whole war cost.

It is true that for the first time since the war the pension total was reduced last year, and it is true that, with the rapid death rate among the soldiers and their widows, it will be but a few years before the remainder of the pensioners are gone.

In spite of this vast cost to the country for military pensions and the growing cost of the present army and navy retirement system, the civil employes insist that they should be provided for by their employer in their old age, and that it would be niggardly in a rich government like ours to do otherwise than take care of them when their usefulness has come to an end.

Already the matter has been made an issue in congress. It is growing bigger and bigger as a public question and sooner or later the lawmakers must go on record for or against the plan.

The friends of the matter take this position: They say that the civil service employes are hired during good behavior and the most of them die in the service; that the best that is in these employes is given to their government, quite as freely given as by the army and navy corps, and that it is nothing but plain justice to these employes to pension them when they become too old to be valuable to the government.

That is not all. The fact is pointed out that civil service salaries are small compared with salaries for the same length of services in other lines of business, and that it is next to impossible for civil employes of the government to raise a family—live during the time in comfort and accumulate any money upon which to voluntarily retire.

There is bitter opposition, however, to any scheme for civil pensions. The enemies declare that to start such a proposition under the law, would mean the beginning of a pensional system of government that would have no end. It would mean an outlay that would ultimately obscure the military pension fund by the enormity of its need.

As for a parallel between military pension and civil retirement the enemies of the plan can find none. They say the old soldiers were pensioned because of sacrifice as well as service, for risks and hazards and loss of limb and loss of health on the field of battle or in the camp. The civil employes on the other hand can point to no such sacrifices.

Other pension schemes are proposed even now to follow the civil service retirement law. The friends of the life-saving service along the two coasts want to see the surfmen pensioned. These friends point to the fact that life savers get very little money, that they risk their lives a score of times a year and that for the most of their lives they are separated from their families.

The least reward that could be given the surfmen, it is urged, is a modest pension after long years of hard work and heroic endeavor to save life and property.

Then, too, the old age pension advocates are prominent. They are encouraged by the apparent success of the civil employes campaign for pensions. These advocates say that in Ireland, for instance, the old age retirement policy has fully justified itself.

All these schemes are the outcome, of course, of the government's generosity toward the old soldier. And many of them are coming to the front as a result of the first decline of the military pension total. The old soldiers have, during the past few years, received as high as $[illegible] a year from the government. This, the other pension proponents say, retirement policy has fully justified schemes yet proposed.

ORMOND

ORMOND, Mar. 14.—Wheel chairs are all right for the ladies to ride in, but hardly so for the sterner sex—especially "heavy weights"—better stick to golf.

W. W. Jenks, of Boston, Mass., arrived during the past week.

H. S. Tompkins, of Tomoka Camp, left for LaSalle, N. Y., last week, having been called away earlier than expected on account of business.

Dr. N. W. Francis, of Jacksonville, came down the first of the week and spent a day or two with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Francis.

At the meeting of the V. I. A. last Friday prizes in money were voted for a pupil of our public school having the best paper on the subject of "Trees of Ormond," and to the pupil of the colored school having the best paper on the subject, "How to Make Ormond Clean and Attractive." These prizes will be awarded early in the fall. Books have been offered to the girls for the best display of flowers and to the boys for the best display of vegetables. Mr. Templin of the Flower Mission, of Cleveland, Ohio, offers a gold watch for the largest castor bean raised. This offer covers a large section of the country.

The golf tournament last Monday was quite exciting. Mr. Cloud was in first, followed by Gill, Nichols, McNamara and McDowell.

The Glee club entertainment given at the town hall last Tuesday evening was well patronized. The Rollins boys deserve much credit for they gave a first class treat, which all present thoroughly enjoyed.

The drama, "How the Story Grows," given Friday evening of last week by members of the Village Improvement association, under the supervision of Mrs. Rachel Neel, was a complete success. The ladies in the cast consisted of Mrs. Richmond, Mrs. Eastman, Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Gertrude McNeal, Miss Frances Thompson, Miss Margaret Sage, Miss Ethel Francis. A social hour followed the side tableaux. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. E. L. Borden and Mrs. Graves, assisted by the ladies of the "cast," who were costumed in quaint old gowns.

Man wants but little here below, and he gets it when he goes to the grocery with less than $1.

Many "Holy Lands."

Christians use the term Holy Land to designate Palestine, as being the scene of the birth, ministry and death of Christ, but, interestingly enough, other religious sects employ the same term for places sacred to them from association. Thus the Mohammedans speak of Mecca as the Holy Land, it being the birthplace of Mohammed. The Chinese Buddhists call India the Holy Land, because the founder of their religion was born there, while the Greeks bestow this same title on Elis, where was situated the temple of Olympian Zeus.

Europe Has Us Beat.

"Why do so many people go abroad instead of seeing their own country?" "Well," Mr. Cumrox replied, "I hate to admit it, but I kind of think Europe has us beat on guides and press agents."

Rather Ungrateful.

Jean is a 3-year-old young, and the last Christmas she was [illegible] for Christmas. As a great treat she was allowed to sit up for the long-expected visit of Santa Claus, but in the course of the evening became sleepy. Presently she [illegible] her surprise and [illegible] by the emphatic exclamation: "My Dad, says, but Santy Thus is late!"

Poverty.

Poverty is dishonorable not in itself, but when it is a proof of laziness, intemperance, luxury and carelessness; whereas in a person that is temperate, industrious, just and valiant, and who uses all his virtues for the public good, it shows a great and noble mind. For he has no time for great matters who concerns himself with petty ones; nor can he relieve many needs of others, who himself has many needs of his own.—Plutarch.

What am I offered?

A 100-foot Corner Lot on Halifax avenue and Mobile Place, adjoining Clubhouse of the Florida East Coast Automobile association, one of the most desirable locations on the Peninsula, in excellent neighborhood and is within a stone's throw of the ocean. An ideal place for year 'round home.

PENSIONS ARE WANTED BY EMPLOYES

FEDERAL EMPLOYES BELIEVE GOVERNMENT SHOULD PROTECT

PROBLEM IS GROWING LARGER ALL THE TIME AND WILL SOON HAVE TO BE FACED BY CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, March 14—A new demand for pensions has been made upon the United States government. This time the civil employes—more than 300,000 of them—want to be retired in pay at the end of long and faithful service. They cannot see the difference between a military and a civil servant of the government when it comes to the consideration of pensions.

It is true the government has expended about as much on pensions for Civil war veterans as the operation of the whole war cost.

It is true that for the first time since the war this pension total was reduced last year, and it is true that, with the rapid death rate among the soldiers and their widows, it will be only a few years before the remainder of the pensioners are gone.

In spite of this vast cost to the country for military pensions and the growing cost of the present army and navy retirement system, the civil employes insist that they should be provided for by their employer in their old age, and that it would be niggardly in a rich government like ours to do otherwise than take care of them when their usefulness has come to an end.

Already the matter has been made an issue in congress. It is growing bigger and bigger as a public question and sooner or later the lawmakers must go on record for or against the plan.

The friends of the matter take this position: They say that the civil service employes are hired during good behavior and the most of them die in the service; that the best that is in these employes is given to their government, quite as freely given as by the army and navy corps, and that it is nothing but plain justice to these employes to pension them when they become too old to be valuable to the government.

That is not all. The fact is pointed out that civil service salaries are small compared with salaries for the same length of services in other lines of business, and that it is next to impossible for civil employes of the government to raise a family—live during the time in comfort and accumulate any money upon which to voluntarily retire.

There is bitter opposition, however, to any scheme for civil pension. The enemies declare that to start such a proposition under the law, would mean the beginning of a paternal system of government that would have no end. It would mean an outlay that would ultimately obscure the military pension fund by the enormity of its total.

As for a parallel between military pension and civil retirement the enemies of the plan can find none. They say the old soldiers were pensioned because of sacrifice as well as service, for risks and hazards and loss of limb and loss of health on the field of battle or in the camp. The civil employes on the other hand can point to no such sacrifices.

Other pension schemes are proposed even now to follow the civil service retirement law. The friends of the life-saving service along the two coasts want to see the surfmen pensioned. These friends point to the fact that life savers get very little money, that they risk their lives a score of times a year and that for the most of their lives they are separated from their families.

The least reward that could be given the surfmen, it is urged, is a modest pension after long years of hard work and heroic endeavor to save life and property.

Then, too, the old age pension advocates are prominent. They are encouraged by the apparent success of the civil employes campaign for pensions. These advocates say that in Ireland, for instance, the old age retirement policy has fully justified itself.

All these schemes are the outcome, of course, of the government's generosity toward the old soldier. And many of them are coming to the front as a result of the first decline of the military pension total. The old soldiers have, during the past few years, received as high as $150,000,000 a year from the government. This, the other pension proponents say, retirement policy has fully justified schemes yet proposed.

ORMOND

ORMOND, Mar. 14.—Wheel chairs are all right for the ladies to ride in, but hardly so for the sterner sex—especially "heavy weights" —better stick to golf.

W. W. Jenks, of Boston, Mass., arrived during the past week.

H. S. Tompkins, of Tuscaria Camp, left for LaSalle, N. Y., last week, having been called away earlier than expected on account of business.

Dr. N. W. Francis, of Jacksonville, came down the first of the week and spent a day or two with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Francis.

At the meeting of the V. I. A. last Friday prizes in money were voted for a pupil of our public school having the best paper on the subject of "Trees of Ormond," and to the pupil of the colored school having the best paper on the subject, "How to Make Ormond Clean and Attractive." These prizes will be awarded early in the fall. Books have been offered to the girls for the best display of flowers and to the boys for the best display of vegetables. Mr. Templin of the Flower Mission, of Cleveland, Ohio, offers a gold watch for the largest castor bean raised. This offer covers a large section of the country.

The golf tournament last Monday was quite exciting. Mr. Cloed won in first, followed by Gil, Nichols, McNamara and McDowell.

The Glee club entertainment given at the town hall last Tuesday evening was well patronized. The Rollins boys deserve much credit for they gave a first class treat, which all present thoroughly enjoyed.

The drama, "How the Story Grows," given Friday evening of last week by members of the Village Improvement association, under the supervision of Mrs. Rachel Neal, was a complete success. The ladies in the cast consisted of Mrs. Richmond, Mrs. Eastman, Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Gertrude McNeal, Miss Frances Thompson, Miss Margaret Sage, Miss Ethel Francis. A social hour followed the entertainment. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. E. L. Borden and Mrs. Graves, assisted by the ladies of the "cast," who were costumed in quaint old gowns.

Many "Holy Lands."

Christians use the term Holy Land to designate Palestine, as being the scene of the birth, ministry and death of Christ, but, interestingly enough, other religious sects employ the same term for places sacred to them from association. Thus the Mohammedans speak of Mecca as the Holy Land, it being the birthplace of Mohammed. The Chinese Buddhists call India the Holy Land, because the founder of their religion was born there, while the Greeks bestow this same title on Elis, where was situated the temple of Olympian Zeus.

Europe Has Us Beat.

"Why do so many people go abroad instead of seeing their own country?" "Well," Mr. Cumrox replied, "I hate to admit it, but I kind of think Europe has us beat on guides and press agents."

Father Knows.

Joan is a "11 year person and the last Christmas eve found her more than eager for Christmas. As a great treat she was allowed to wait up for the long-expected visit of Santa Claus, but in the course of the evening became sleepy. Presently she astonished her careful and mild-tongued elders by the emphatic exclamation: "My Dod, papa, but Santy Taus is late!"

Poverty.

Poverty is dishonorable not in itself, but when it is a proof of laziness, intemperance, luxury and carelessness; whereas in a person that is temperate, industrious, just and valiant, and who uses all his virtues for the public good, it shows a great and lofty mind. For he has no time for great matters who concerns himself with petty ones; nor can he relieve many needs of others, who himself has many needs of his own.—Plutarch.

What am I offered?

A 100-foot Corner Lot on Halifax avenue and Mobile Place, adjoining Clubhouse of the Florida East Coast Automobile association, one of the most desirable locations on the Peninsula, in excellent neighborhood and is within a stone's throw of the ocean. An ideal place for year 'round home.

The Mother

By Wilbur D. Nesbit

"As one whom his mother comforteth."—Isaiah LXVI, 13.

A book unheeded in her lap, she sits with dreaming eyes
And looks from out the window at the distant hills that rise—
Yet soon she crosses all the hills and finds a pathway straight
To where the children clamber on the fence beside the gate:
To where the children hail her with their shouts of wondrous glee,
Yet still the book, unheeded, lies half-open on her knee.

And far from out the window bends the sky in hazy blue,
And she fares forth upon a road that leads the meadows through,
That hurries down the city streets until she finds a door
Which opens to her gentle knock; and there, as oft of yore,
She hears the laughter of her boy, she sorrows when he grieves,
Yet still the book is lying with her hand between the leaves.

And now she goes another way, where mountains touch the sky;
She threads the forest fastnesses until she draws nigh
The little cottage where her girl has helped to make a home,
Where, in the distance on the sea, are gleams of upflung foam;
And for a while they speak of all the joys that used to be—
Yet still the book, unheeded, lies half-open on her knee.

And so she fares till sunset, she goes far and far away,
But always finds her haven at the ending of the day,
And takes her book and idly at the opened pages peers
With eyes that have the softness that is caused by unshed tears,
And sometimes she will murmur low, and sometimes she will smile,
For out and over all the land her heart has been the while

Whence the "Grass Widow."

To give positively the origin of the expression "grass widow" appears to be impossible. The authorities do not agree on this point. One contends that a woman who said to her friends that her husband "had gone to grass" [illegible] is entitled to the credit of coining the expression.

Other writers have attempted to find an explanation of it in the French word "grace," signifying a widow by courtesy. In the Scandinavian language the prefix "gras" [illegible], where have conjectured that it comes from the word "grabben," meaning greedy, this signifying a woman who longs for the husband who is gone.

These give a wide enough choice.

Friendly Advice.

"Good enough. Now surprise 'em by staying married."—Kansas City Journal.

The Mother
By Wilbur D. Nesbit

"As one whom his mother comforteth."—Isaiah LXVI, 13.

A book unheeded in her lap, she sits with dreaming eyes
And looks from out the window at the distant hills that rise—
Yet soon she crosses all the hills and finds a pathway straight
To where the children clamber on the fence beside the gate;
To where the children hail her with their shouts of wondrous glee,
Yet still the book, unheeded, lies half-open on her knee.

And far from out the window bends the sky in hazy blue,
And she fares forth upon a road that leads the meadows through,
That hurries down the city streets until she finds a door
Which opens to her gentle knock; and then, as oft of yore,
She hears the laughter of her boy, she sorrows when he grieves,
Yet still the book is lying with her hand between the leaves.

And now she goes another way, where mountains touch the sky;
She threads the forest fastnesses until she draws anigh
The little cottage where her girl has helped to make a home,
Where, in the distance on the sea, are gleams of upflung foam;
And for a while they speak of all the joys that used to be—
Yet still the book, unheeded, lies half-open on her knee.

And so she fares till sunset, she goes far and far away,
But always finds her haven at the ending of the day;
And takes her book and idly at the opened pages peers
With eyes that have the softness that is caused by unshed tears,
And sometimes she will murmur low, and sometimes she will smile,
For out and over all the land her heart has been the while

(Copyright, 1911, by W. G. Chapman.)

ARE YOU ON OPPOSITE SIDE?

Frank Crane Thinks the "Standing Minority Report" Necessary to Keep Mankind Honest.

Doubtless each of us knows someone in his circle of acquaintances who is intellectually contrary. Such a one delights to take on every occasion the opposite side.

If he is in a religious community he will take his stand firmly for atheism; if he is among scoffers he will argue just as valiantly for the church. He is a standing minority report. He is a crooked stick that will not lie in the woodpile. Like Goethe's devil he is the spirit who constantly denies.

This class of persons is a steady, normal crop in the field of humanity. We would not get along without them. They keep the kettle of things stirred, which otherwise would settle and spoil. These are they that keep the course of social life pure as a running stream and prevent it from becoming like a green, stagnant pool.

They supply ginger for political campaigns. They are the party out of power. They are the watchdogs of progress. Without them religion would harden into a cruel tyranny of superstition, falsehoods would be crystallized in power and ancient fraud live forever. They harass mankind into being honest.—Frank Crane.

Whence the "Grass Widow."

To give positively the origin of the expression "grass widow" appears to be impossible. The authorities do not agree on this point. One contends that a woman who said to her friends that her husband "had gone to grass" following a separation is entitled to the credit of coining the expression.

Other writers have attempted to find an explanation of it in the French word "grace," signifying a widow by courtesy. In the Scandinavian languages the prefix "grass" being in common use, others have conjectured that it comes from the word "gradlag," meaning greedy; this signifying a woman who longs for the husband who is gone.

These give a wide enough choice.

Friendly Advice.

"We surprised all our friends by getting married."

"Good enough. Now surprise 'em by staying married."—Kansas City Journal.

She Was Stylish.

"Maggie," said the mistress to the new girl, "don't you know better than to throw the slops out at the back door?"

"Axin' yer pardon, ma'am," replied Maggie, "but I reckon as I knows me biness. I ain't never worked fer a fambly wot had no more self-respect than t' throw 'em out at the front door, ma'am."

Doings at Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH, March 14—The ordinance granting Michael Scholtz the right to construct and operate a street railway in the town of Daytona Beach, which passed on third reading February 27, provides a right of way on and over the following streets: Grandview avenue (sometimes called Bath street,) Seabreeze avenue, Peninsula drive, Halifax avenue and Pine street.

At the regular meeting of the town council much business was disposed of. President Smith was in the chair, and all members answered to roll call. A quit claim deed was presented to the town by J. W. Erregger, conveying 10 feet along his property on the south side of Peninsula avenue for the purpose of making it a 60 foot street. The result of several nominating caucuses for the town election was presented to the council and from it the following names were ordered placed on the official ballot: Mayor, C. L. Horn, A. S. Harroun; aldermen for two years, V. C. Grant, C. A. Kurfess, Stephen Smith, Lawrence H. Thompson, B. Shoemaker; clerk and assessor Harry A. Horn and Chas. H. Wilson; marshal, Geo. K. Sweeney and J. M. Fuquay; treasurer, Laurence Thompson and E. L. Howard. The election is to take place Saturday, March 30. The clerk was instructed to notify the city engineer, D. D. Rogers, to survey and lay out Palmetto and Grandview avenues from the present surfacing on Harvey avenue, to Halifax drive. The clerk was also authorized to advertise for bids for grubbing, grading and shelling Peninsula avenue from river to ocean. This is one of the new streets opening up the Marshall subdivision. The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids to remove the town jail from its present site to the town lot.

AUCTION SALES OCCUR NEXT MONDAY AND TUESDAY.

As will be seen in the advertisements in this issue, the United Realty & Auction company of Wilmington, N. C., will conduct two auction lot sales in the city next week. Monday at 10 a. m., they will sell the property on Volusia avenue which is known as the Kost & Gove addition, and Tuesday, at 10 a. m., they will sell the Goodall estate, at Daytona Beach.

The Kost & Gove property is close in, one block beyond Ridgewood on Volusia avenue, and is on the route where it is proposed the new car line will take.

There are four dwelling houses to be sold at the Goodall sale, as well as over 100 residence lots, and extra boats will be run to accommodate the travel, the fare having been reduced to 10 cents for the round trip, and boats will begin running at 9 a. m.

The United Realty & Auction company has successfully handled several subdivisions in Florida this season, and the secret of their success has been probably due to the fact that everything they put up is sold without reserve or limit.
